PREFACE

Three censuses of population have been taken since the Government of Northern Ireland was established. The first enumeration took place in 1926 and incorporated questions relating to occupation and industry, orphanhood and infirmities. The second enumeration made in 1937 was of more limited scope and was intended to bridge the gap between the census of 1926 and the census which it was proposed to take in 1941, but which had to be abandoned owing to the outbreak of war. The census taken as at mid-night of 8th-9th April, 1951, forms the basis of this report and like that in 1926 questions were asked as to the occupations and industries of the population.

The length of time required to process the data collected at an enumeration before it can be presented in the ultimate reports is necessarily considerable. In order to meet immediate requirements, however, two Preliminary Reports on the 1951 census were published. The first of these gave the population figures by administrative areas and towns and villages, and by Counties and County Boroughs according to religious profession. The Second Report, which was restricted to Counties and County Boroughs, gave the population by age groups.

The present Volume is the third of seven county volumes (the Belfast County Borough and County of Antrim volumes having been published already) and has been prepared (as were also the Preliminary Reports) in accordance with the provisions of the Census Act (Northern Ireland) 1951. The statistics now published supersede those shown in the Preliminary Reports and may be accepted as final.

This volume is consistent in design and scope with the previous volumes and the remaining County volumes which will be published at intervals as completed will be prepared in like manner.

A General Report for the whole of Northern Ireland will follow the county volumes. This will bring together, and in some respects show in greater detail, the information contained in the county volumes. Additional features will also be introduced particularly in regard to the distribution of the people industrially by age and marital condition.

Reference has been made in the Preliminary Report and in the reports for Belfast County Borough and County Antrim to the development which has taken place in the area surrounding Belfast and the Preliminary Report gave the 1937 and 1951 populations of the approximate area. The matter has now been investigated in more detail than was possible at the Preliminary Report stage and it is intended to include in a later publication figures relating to population and housing in regard to what may be termed the "Brick and Mortar" area of Belfast and its Environs.

Following the 1926 census a topographical index was published dealing with each type of area for which statistics were supplied in the county series. A supplement to this index was published after the 1937 census and a further supplement in respect of the 1951 census will be prepared in due course.

Census publications are obtainable either directly from H.M. Stationery Office, Chichester House, Chichester Street, Belfast, or from any book-seller.

PART I

EXPLANATORY NOTES AND DEFINITIONS OF TERMS USED IN THIS VOLUME

AREA

The acreages given are as measured by the Ordnance Survey (foreshore being excluded), and relate to the several administrative areas as constituted at the date of the 1951 census. The acreage covered by the larger rivers, lakes and tideways is not included in the body of Tables 4 and 5 but is given in footnotes thereto.

POPULATION

The population comprises all persons on land, in vessels on inland waters or in port or at anchorage on census night, and also persons on coastwise voyages who arrived in port within a brief period not having been enumerated elsewhere. Members of the Forces of the Crown are also included.

ADMINISTRATIVE DIVISIONS

The County is divided into nineteen county districts (two municipal boroughs, nine urban districts and eight rural districts) comprising 145 district electoral divisions, twenty-three of which are coterminous with entire municipal boroughs or urban districts or wards thereof (see table 4). Wards, where they exist in boroughs or urban districts are the units for the purpose of municipal elections. In rural districts the unit is the district electoral division. The County is also divided into twenty county electoral divisions, which are the units for the purpose of county council elections (see table 5).

Owing to the abolition of the Boards of Guardians, details of the Poor Law Union and Dispensary districts are not given in this volume. These areas, however, form respectively, superintendent registrars' and registrars' districts for the registration of marriages, births and deaths, and consequently the census tabulations have been prepared in a manner suitable for the extraction of data according to these areas should such be required.

There are eight parliamentary constituencies for elections to the Northern Ireland Parliament, and two for elections to the United Kingdom Parliament (see table 9).

The Down Education Area is coterminous with the County.

The changes made in the constitution or boundaries of administrative divisions of the County during the last intercensal period are as follows:-

- (a) Kilkeel, formerly a town under the Towns Improvement (Ireland) Act, 1854, and forming part of Kilkeel Rural District, was made an Urban District (1st April, 1937).
- (b) Newtownards Urban District was made a Municipal Borough (23rd May, 1938); and the boundary was extended (1st April, 1950).
- (c) The boundary of Bangor Municipal Borough was extended (1st April, 1950).
- (d) A portion of Newtownards Rural District was transferred to Newtownards Municipal Borough (1st April, 1950); and a portion to Bangor Municipal Borough (1st April, 1950).
- (e) The boundary of Holywood Urban District was extended (1st April, 1946).
- (f) A portion of Castlereagh Rural District was transferred to Holywood Urban District (1st April, 1946).
- (g) Under the Representation of the People Act, 1948, two parliamentary constituencies were created for the purpose of election to the Parliament of the United Kingdom.

HOUSES

1. The term "House" means
 - (a) each structurally separate dwelling (except institutions) having distinct access to the street, common stair, or landing.
 - (b) each institution (viz., hospital, sanatorium, nursing home, asylum, religious, welfare or charitable community, residential school, barracks or other premises under Naval, Military, Air Force, or Police discipline, prison or other place of detention), regardless of the number of buildings within its precincts.
 - (c) each boat, caravan, tent or other movable dwelling if occupied on census night but not otherwise.
2. The term "Private House" means a dwelling other than an institution, hotel, boarding house, premises occupied by a caretaker, vessel, movable dwelling, barn, stable or outhouse occupied on census night. The term includes premises comprising a shop with dwelling attached, unless occupied by a caretaker.
3. The terms "Boarding House" and "Lodging House" cover habitations described as such, and any private house containing three or more boarders or lodgers.
4. The term "Inhabited" denotes actual residence of a person or persons on census night. "Uninhabited" houses, therefore, include those temporarily vacant through the absence of the usual occupiers as well as those without tenants. Enumerators were instructed to omit from their enumeration empty houses in such an advanced state of decay that there was little likelihood that they would again be made fit for habitation.

ROOMS

1. The rooms counted are the usual living rooms including bedrooms and kitchens but excluding sculleries (i.e., compartments used only for washing, cleaning, or cooking), pantries, cloakrooms, landings, closets, bathrooms, or any warehouse, office or shop rooms.
2. For the classification of households according to rooms occupied (see Table 7), shared rooms - i.e., those used in common by two or more households - have been included in the number of rooms occupied by the main household in the dwelling. In cases of one room occupations, all persons living therein, whether related or not, have been enumerated as one census household.

HOUSEHOLDS

1. "Non-private Households" comprise all persons enumerated in hotels, boarding houses, lodging houses, shops and institutions (see para. 1(b) under "Houses" definition above).
2. "Private Households" are comprised of single persons or groups of persons occupying separately the whole, or part of any private dwelling (see para. 2 under "Houses" definition above). Visitors and domestic servants are included in the household with which they were enumerated. Lodgers having or sharing separate accommodation were enumerated on separate returns and consequently are regarded as separate private households.

It should be specially noted that a household or private household for census purposes includes any group of persons, whether related or not, who live together in separate house or room accommodation.

RATEABLE VALUATION

The figures shown are those for the year ended 31st March, 1952, and have been supplied by the Commissioner of Valuation.

Subject to the provisions of the Local Government (Rating and Finance) Act (Northern Ireland), 1929, agricultural land and agricultural buildings are completely derated and industrial hereditaments and freight-transport hereditaments are partially derated, the consequent deficiency in the yield of rates being made good by way of General Exchequer contributions.

The figures in Table 4 and 5 are the totals of the valuations in the various areas before reduction on account of derating, but exclude in certain cases the valuations of electricity, gas and water mains, telegraphs, telephones, fisheries, water-works and tramways. The total of such excluded valuations for the county is given in a footnote to the table.

USUAL RESIDENCE

The persons who have been regarded as having their usual residence in the area of enumeration (i.e., the County) include:-

- (1) Those enumerated in their own houses;
- (2) Persons having settled residence in private lodgings;
- (3) Resident domestic servants;
- (4) Scholars, students, etc., living during term time in residential schools, etc.;
- (5) Inmates of institutions when the nature of the institution suggested permanent residence;
- (6) Crews of vessels if usually living on shipboard.

BIRTHPLACES

The birthplaces of a small number of persons were not stated on the census return; it was assumed that these persons were born in the county or county borough of enumeration, except when they were stated to be visitors to the household, or bore foreign names. After further enquiry in the latter cases it was found possible to classify them under definite headings.

RELIGIONS

The classification of religions includes a separate heading for each religion, the adherents of which number 10 or more (see Table 16). The heading "Presbyterian" includes those who call themselves by this name without qualification, together with those who describe themselves as members of the Church of Scotland. Other Presbyterian denominations are shown at the foot of Table 16. Members of the Church of England and the Episcopal Church of Scotland have been included under the heading "Church of Ireland". The latter group includes all persons returned as "Church" or "Episcopalian".

OCCUPATIONS AND INDUSTRIES

There are two categories into which the population may be grouped in their working capacity, namely, occupation and industry. The sole criterion for determining the occupational classification is the type of work performed. On the other hand, industry has to do with the kind of business with which the occupation is associated. Thus a carpenter working for a firm of shipbuilders would be classified under "Carpenter" for occupation but under "Shipbuilding" for industry.

The 1951 Censuses were carried out simultaneously in all parts of the British Isles and this afforded the first opportunity for Northern Ireland to adopt both occupational and industrial classifications* on exactly the same lines as those used for the rest of the United Kingdom.

In the preparation of Tables 19 and 21 the range of Orders, Sub-Orders and Occupational and Industrial unit groups have been modified by combining closely related groups where the numbers were small and the preservation or usefulness of the data was not harmed.

TABLES CONTAINING DOTS (·) AND DASHES (-)

Throughout this volume dots (·) are used in tabular matter to indicate "None", and dashes (-) are used to indicate that figures are not available or that the column headings are not relevant to the lines in which the dashes appear.

CORRECTION OF CENSUS DATA

Every effort has been made to eliminate, as far as practicable, errors and inaccuracies from the census data. The process of correction began with the enumerators, who received full instructions as to the action to be taken in cases of error or omission, and it was continued by a system of check and further enquiry where necessary applied at each stage of the office work. The process was completed by an intensive scrutiny and inter-comparison of the tabulation sheets. This scrutiny and comparison revealed a certain number of incongruities, which, when material, were investigated and corrected in the light of the facts disclosed; trifling errors were adjusted arbitrarily.

PART II

STATISTICAL NOTES

The definitions, etc., given in the preceding section apply equally to these notes and to the tables in Part III.

AREA

Descriptions and figures are given for areas as constituted at the date of the 1951 census unless otherwise stated.

It will be seen from Table 1 (Part III) that the area of County Down, exclusive of the larger rivers, lakes and tideways, is 952 square miles or 18.2 per cent of the area of Northern Ireland. In 1896 and 1899 the County lost an aggregate of almost five square miles to Belfast County Borough and to County Antrim, but gained in the latter year over half a square mile from County Armagh (see note to table 2).

The population was 241,181. This is the highest number recorded since 1881.

It will be seen from Table 2 that censuses were taken decennially between 1821 and 1911 and thereafter at irregular intervals; this should be borne in mind when comparing data of one enumeration with another. From 1821 to 1841 each census registered an increase in population, the population in the latter year being 361,487. From 1841 to 1911 every census registered a decline in population, which stood at 204,303 in the latter year. Each census since 1911 has shown the population to be increasing, the rate of increase being highest in the last intercensal period.

Natural Increase: The following table sets out figures of the natural increase and actual increase or decrease of population in each of the intercensal periods since 1901, and shows the net gain or loss by migration. Owing to the fact that prior to 1899, certain registration units in Belfast Union extended over both the urban and rural portions thereof, it is not practicable to show figures in this table for periods prior to 1901.

TABLE I

Intercensal Period	Population at beginning of Period	Births Registered	Deaths Registered	Excess of Births over Deaths	Intercensal Variation in Population	Net Movement inwards (+) or outwards (-)

* Including the deaths of non-civilians of the County of Down which occurred outside Northern Ireland.

Data is not available for the County as now constituted for periods prior to 1901, but it is evident that in each of the intercensal periods from 1841 to 1901, as well as from 1901 to 1911, there was a net outward movement of such dimensions as to cause an actual decrease in population. From 1911 to 1937 the net outward movement only partially offset the increase which would otherwise have resulted from the excess of births over deaths. Since 1937 there has been a net movement into County Down.

Municipal Boroughs, Urban and Rural Districts: Table II shows the population by these divisions since 1901 and the variations during the period 1937 - 1951.

* The figures given relate to each area as constituted at the date of the 1951 Census.

† Estimated figures for 1901, 1911 and 1926.

Kilkeel was made a town under the Towns Improvement (Ireland) Act, 1854, on 1st August, 1934, and an Urban District on 1st April, 1937.

Eighteen divisions show increases and one a decrease during the fourteen years 1937 - 1951. The most marked percentage increases are in Castlereagh Rural District (134.4 per cent or 11,747 persons) and Donaghadee Urban District (34.2 per cent or 867 persons). The one decrease is in Banbridge Rural District (1.8 per cent or 394 persons). The total increase in the urban population is 13,823 or 22.1 per cent and the overall increase in the rural population is 16,671 or 11.3 per cent - the areas being as constituted at the date of each census.

Over the fifty years 1901 - 1951 all urban and four rural areas show an increase since the commencement of the period. Five urban districts and municipal boroughs and one rural district show an increase for every intercensal period since 1901, and one other urban district shows an increase at every such period since 1911. The most marked increases are in Bangor Municipal Borough (14,122 or 218 per cent) and Castlereagh Rural District (16,570 or 423 per cent). Four rural districts show decreases over the fifty year period. Banbridge Rural District shows a steady decrease throughout and its overall decrease is the most marked (6,963 or 24.1 per cent).

Amongst the urban districts and municipal boroughs population density is highest in Newry (18.9 persons per acre) and Downpatrick (14.8 persons per acre) and lowest in Newcastle (2.4 persons per acre) and Kilkeel (2.5 persons per acre). Amongst the rural districts population density is greatest in Castlereagh (1.7 persons per acre); in the other rural districts it is 0.2 or 0.3 persons per acre. The average number of persons per acre is 7.8 in the urban districts and municipal boroughs and 0.3 in the rural districts.

Tables 4 and 5 provide detailed information regarding area, population, housing and accommodation for the various sub-divisions of the County and incorporate figures of rateable valuation. The rateable valuation of the County in 1951 was £1,512,745 before reduction on account of derating and £957,595 thereafter. In 1937 the corresponding valuations of the County were £1,236,098 and £706,100 respectively.

Table 4 includes information regarding Towns created under the Towns Improvement (Ireland) Act, 1854, and towns and villages containing 50 houses and upwards with no legally defined boundaries.

Parliamentary Constituencies: Table 9 sets out the Parliamentary Constituencies of Down for the Parliaments of both the United Kingdom and Northern Ireland together with the figures of population, number of electors and electors per 1,000 of the population, distinction being shown in respect of electors with residence qualification.

Under the provisions of the Elections and Franchise Act (Northern Ireland), 1946, a person is entitled to be registered as a parliamentary elector for any constituency returning a member to the Parliament of Northern Ireland if he or she is a British subject, 21 or more years of age, not subject to any legal incapacity, and was born in Northern Ireland (or alternatively, has resided continuously in the United Kingdom for a period of seven years ending on the qualifying date) and either:-

- (a) has the requisite residence qualification of three months; or
- (b) has occupied for three months prior to the qualifying date business premises of at least £10 valuation; or
- (c) is the wife or husband of a person entitled to be registered in respect of the above business premises qualification; or
- (d) was on the qualifying date a member of the forces or a merchant seaman and who, but for such service, would have been residing in Northern Ireland.

The electorate in the Queen's University constituency comprises all graduates of the University who are British subjects of full age, not subject to any legal incapacity.

Under the provisions of the Representation of the People Act (1949), a person is entitled to be registered as a parliamentary elector for any Northern Ireland constituency returning a member to the Parliament at Westminster if that person is a British subject or citizen of the Irish Republic of twenty-one or more years of age and not subject to any legal incapacity to vote, is resident at an address in that constituency on the qualifying date, and has resided at that address (or at any other address or addresses in Northern Ireland) for a period of three months ending on the qualifying date.

In addition, a person who would ordinarily have been resident at a specified address in a constituency in Northern Ireland, may be registered in respect of a Service qualification if -

- (i) he or she is a member of the Forces; or
- (ii) he or she is a person employed in the service of the Crown in a post outside the United Kingdom; or
- (iii) she is the wife of a person having a Service qualification and is residing outside the United Kingdom to be with her husband.

Education Area: The Down County Council is the Education Authority for the whole area under its control, and all figures given in this Volume for the County apply equally to the Down Education Area.

HOUSING - BUILDINGS, ROOMS, HOUSEHOLDS, ETC.

Houses: The total number of houses, including hotels, institutions, etc., normally used for dwelling purposes was 67,639 of which 61,145 houses were occupied on Census night. The number of occupied houses at the 1937 Census was 51,241, an increase therefore of 9,904, or 19.3 per cent under this category took place in the intercensal period. Table III includes all houses, private and non-private. The number of non-private houses was 531 of which 266 were boarding houses or hotels. The population figures do not include inmates of institutions, but they do include other occupants such as staff.

* The figures given are for the County as constituted at the date of each Census. For particulars of boundary changes see notes at head of Table 2.

The total number of houses including hotels, institutions, etc., normally used for dwelling purposes was 67,639 of which 61,145 were occupied on Census night. The corresponding figures for the 1937 census are 58,504 and 51,241. Thus in the intercensal period there were increases of 9,135 or 15.6 per cent in the total number of houses and of 9,904 or 19.3 per cent in the number of occupied houses. These should be compared with the 14.6 per cent increase in population during the same period.

The total number of houses, the number of inhabited houses, and the number of houses being built, were all the highest census figures recorded since 1851. The number of houses being built (2,009) was more than six times as great as the next highest census figure - that of 307 for the 1926 census.

The average number of persons (exclusive of inmates of institutions) per house, which stood in 1951 at 3.88 has been steadily decreasing since 1851, as has the size of the average census household (3.84 in 1951).

Table IV shows the changes in the numbers of houses in each municipal borough, urban district and rural district, during the intercensal period 1937 - 1951. The increase of 9,135 houses for the County should be considered with the figures for uninhabited houses, which show a drop from 6,992 in 1937 to 4,485 in 1951.

A comprehensive investigation for the County of Antrim report showed that of the uninhabited houses about 42 per cent were temporarily unoccupied at the time of census, 39 per cent were summer residences, 15 per cent were affected by change of occupancy (or new houses awaiting occupancy) and no information was available about the remaining 4 per cent.

A less extensive enquiry was made for County Down but this was sufficient to reveal that approximately the same proportions apply for this area as in County Antrim. One thing clear, however, is that the greatest numerical decreases since 1937 occurred in respect of dwellings of the wooden bungalow type which previously were used during the summer months only but, because of the shortage of houses arising during the intercensal period, were turned into permanent dwellings.

(a) The figures given are for the County Districts as constituted at the date of the 1951 Census.

The total number of houses was 21,395, in urban areas and 46,244 in rural areas. The total increase in the number of houses was 2,814 or 15.1 per cent in urban areas, and 6,321 or 15.8 per cent in rural areas. Here again, as in the case of the population figures, the higher figure for rural areas is in the main due to the development of Castlereagh Rural District. If Castlereagh is excluded the increase in rural areas is only 2,418 or 6.4 per cent.

In the urban areas the most marked increases took place in Newcastle (40 per cent or 299 houses), Hollywood (19.4 per cent or 286 houses) and Bangor (18.4 per cent or 1,029 houses); Dromore had the lowest increase (6.5 per cent or 44 houses). In the rural areas the greatest increases were in Castlereagh (183 per cent or 3,903 houses) and Newtownards (13.3 per cent or 1,210 houses); there was a decrease of 32 houses or 0.9 per cent in Newry No. 1. The five named areas of the greatest increases show a continuation of a trend already evident in the intercensal period 1926 - 1937, when the urban areas of Newcastle, Hollywood and Bangor, and the rural areas of Castlereagh and Newtownards, showed the most marked increases in their respective groups. It will be noted that these districts may be classified as seaside resorts or residential towns on the coast, and as rural areas adjoining or convenient to Belfast. The decrease in Newry No. 1 Rural District is also a continuation of a trend evident in the previous intercensal period.

INHABITED PRIVATE HOUSES

Number of Houses and Inhabitants: The following statement sets out the figures for inhabited private houses, persons therein and average number per house for censuses, 1926, 1937 and 1951, for the County.

	1926	1937	1951
Total number of Inhabited Private Houses	46,355	50,872	60,614
Total number of Persons therein	197,762	201,246	230,773
Average number of Persons per house	4.27	3.97	3.81

The average annual increase in the number of inhabited private houses for the period 1926 - 1937 was 392 and for the period 1937 - 1951 it was 710, but this must be viewed in the light of increases in the population in these dwelling houses - the average annual increase of population in the first period was only 317, whereas in the latter it was 2,109. The relative changes are seen more clearly from the figures for "persons per house" the ratios having dropped for the whole period 1926 - 1937 by 0.50 and for 1937 - 1951 by 0.16.

Of the total of 60,614 inhabited private houses, 60,121 (99.2 per cent) were occupied by single private households, the remainder of 493 were shared by two or more households. This means that in 98.2 per cent of the total private households (61,224) each occupies a single house, or to put it another way, there are slightly more than 101 households accommodated in every 100 inhabited private houses.

Table V shows the position at each census 1926, 1937 and 1951 for inhabited private houses, for the County, of various sizes and the extent to which they were shared by two or more households.

TABLE V

TOTAL	46,355	100.0	0.9	50,672	100.0	0.5	60,614	100.0	0.8

The number of houses with three or less rooms fell between 1926 and 1937 but rose slightly between 1937 and 1951. The number of houses with four or five rooms has increased steeply over the whole period, while the number of houses with six or more rooms has also increased, though at a slower rate.

In each of the three categories the percentage of shared accommodation fell between 1926 and 1937 but rose again between 1937 and 1951.

In 1951 the percentage of shared accommodation in houses with three or less rooms was the same as in 1926 (0.2). A lower percentage (0.7) of four or five-roomed houses were shared than in 1926 (1.0); a higher percentage (1.9) of houses with six or more rooms were shared than in 1926 (1.6).

Rooms: From Table 6 it will be observed that the total number of rooms in inhabited private houses was 276,400 (the corresponding figure for 1937 was 231,400).

The average number of rooms per house was 4.56 compared with 4.57 in 1937.

The following table gives for the County the number of private households occupying various numbers of rooms (irrespective of the number of houses) for the enumerations of 1926, 1937 and 1951:-

Information incorporated in Tables V and VI for 1951 can be readily obtained for each county district from Tables 6 and 7.

PRIVATE HOUSEHOLDS

Households: The population of 230,773 occupying private houses was comprised of 61,224 households within the definitions of "Private Households" given in Part I. In 1937 there were 50,959 such households. The increase of 10,265 households (20.1 per cent) was at a greater rate than the rate of increase in population comprising them (population increase was 29,527 - 14.7 per cent). The household factor rather than that of population affects the question of housing. In the period 1926 to 1937 the percentage increase in households was 8.9 and that of population comprising them 1.8. The disparity, therefore, between growth in population and in households was much greater in the earlier intercensal period than in the period 1937 - 1951. Households of from one to six persons all increased in number during the period 1937 - 1951. Households of from seven to twelve persons decreased in number, and households of over twelve persons increased.

Table 7, in which the measurement of households according to the number of persons in each household is detailed, shows that the number of households rises from 6,012 households of one person each, to 12,871 households of the three person group. The households of four persons number 11,100 but from that point there is a sharp decline. The three-person group comprises 21.0 per cent of all households, the two-person group 21.0 per cent also and the four-person group 18.1 per cent - these three categories make up approximately 60 per cent of the total number of private households.

The comparable figures for 1937 were 19.1 for the three-person group, 20.0 for households of two and 16.7 for the four-person group, making 55.8 per cent in all.

The average size of household was 3.8 persons in 1951 and 3.9 persons in 1937.

DENSITIES

Table 7 gives the composition of private households, the number of persons comprising each household, the number of rooms occupied, and the density of occupation.

Private Households: There were 142 households living at densities of more than four persons per room and 613 households at more than three persons per room. 3,058 households or 4.99 per cent fall within the over two-persons per room category which has been assumed to indicate overcrowding.

As shown earlier in these notes the household of three occurs most frequently; and the most common combination consists of the household of three occupying four rooms. Of the 16,894 households in the 1-3 room group, 2,960 comprise only one person each. There are 546 households (1,193 persons) living in one-roomed accommodation but of these 254 are persons living alone - the figures in 1937 were 420 households (793 persons) living in one-roomed accommodation. The number of households of two or more persons occupying one room fell from 221 in 1926 to 162 in 1937, but rose to 292 in 1951.

The particulars of households in two and three-roomed accommodation are:-

	1937		1951
	Households	Persons	Households	Persons
Two-room accommodation	5,775	17,630	5,544	16,634
Three-room accommodation	9,513	36,125	10,804	38,958

Of the 60,614 inhabited private houses 493 or 0.8 per cent were found to be occupied by two or more households - 420 of these accommodated two households and 73 accommodated three or more households.

Persons: Of the total of 230,773 persons in private houses 89.7 per cent (206,939 persons) were living not more than two persons per room: in 1937 the percentage was 87.2, so that a slight mitigation of general overcrowding is indicated.

Table 7 shows that, taking the total number of persons in private households and the total number of rooms occupied, there is an average of 0.83 persons for each room. In 1926 the corresponding figure was 0.95 and that for 1937 was 0.87, so that there has been an improvement in room accommodation during both intercensal periods, though the rate of improvement was considerably higher in the first period.

Table VIII gives the densities of room occupation for 1926, 1937 and 1951 Censuses for the County.

* TABLE VIII

* Table VII, dealing with persons per household is restricted to Wards in the Belfast County Borough Volume.

It will be seen that the proportions of persons living at various densities of over two persons per room decreased between 1926 and 1937 and further decreased between 1937 and 1951, while the proportion of persons living at densities of two persons or less per room increased during both intercensal periods.

Districts: Households occupying one room each are most common in Newry Urban District where they number 98 (233 persons) and form 3.3 per cent of the number of households and 1.8 per cent of the population. In contrast no household in Banbridge Urban District occupies less than two rooms, and in Dromore Urban District there is only one household (one person) occupying less than two rooms.

Table IX shows, by districts, the population in private households living at two persons and less per room and at over two persons per room, also persons per 1,000 living at these densities, and for comparison, the 1926 and 1937 figures for persons per 1,000 living at a density of over two persons per room are included.

In the County as a whole 103 persons per 1,000 live at a density of over two persons per room. In the Urban Districts an average of 69 persons per 1,000 live at this density, and in the Rural Districts an average of 119 persons per 1,000. The districts showing the greatest proportions of overcrowding are Kilkeel Rural District (200 persons per 1,000 living at more than two persons per room), Newry No. 1 Rural District (192 persons per 1,000 at this density) and Downpatrick Rural District (173 persons per 1,000). In the Urban Districts the greatest overcrowding is in Newry (141 persons per 1,000). The smallest proportions of overcrowding are in Castlereagh Rural District (24 persons per 1,000) and Bangor Municipal Borough (26 persons per 1,000).

Comparison with previous censuses shows that in the County as a whole there has been a reduction in the number of persons per 1,000 living at a density of over two persons per room from 169 in 1926 to 128 in 1937 and 103 in 1951, so that the rate of improvement has been slower in the more recent intercensal period. Bangor Municipal Borough, Downpatrick and Holywood Urban Districts and Newry No. 1 Rural District all show an increase over the 1937 figures for persons living at this density. Other districts show a decrease in the proportion of overcrowding (i.e., in persons living at over two persons per room) between 1937 and 1951. Between 1926 and 1937 all districts showed a decrease in overcrowding. As in 1951, Kilkeel Rural District in 1926 and 1937 had more overcrowding than any other district. In 1926 and 1937 Bangor Municipal Borough had the least proportion of overcrowding (Castlereagh Rural District had this distinction in 1951). Over the period 1926 to 1951 the most marked improvement took place in Castlereagh Rural District where the number of persons per thousand living at a density of over two persons per room fell from 92 to 24. Dromore Urban District came next with a drop from 129 to 46. Since 1937 the most marked improvements have been in Castlereagh Rural District and Banbridge and Newcastle Urban Districts which register falls from 63 to 24, from 93 to 46 and from 109 to 59 respectively.

INSTITUTIONS, ETC.

* The 1937 figures relate to a Poor Law Institution.

In the 1937 Report attention was drawn to the drop of 39 per cent in the number of hotels and boarding houses, and of 44 per cent in their occupants since the 1926 census. It was considered that this was due to the additional houses built during the intercensal period, these houses having absorbed a great many people hitherto living in boarding houses as well as persons who previously occupied portions of houses. During the 1937 - 1951 period a further decrease occurred in the number of hotels and boarding houses from 357 to 266 and in the number of occupants of from 2,117 to 1,819.

In the intercensal period there were slight increases in the number of hotels and boarding houses in Newcastle Urban and Castlereagh Rural Districts, but in all other areas the number remained the same or recorded a decrease. The districts with the largest number of hotels and boarding houses and with the greatest number of people living therein are shown to be Urban areas, viz:- Bangor (62 buildings and 449 persons), Newcastle (53 buildings and 308 persons), Newry (36 buildings and 286 persons) and Warrenpoint (32 buildings and 159 persons).

Between 1937 and 1951 the number of inmates in institutions increased by 199, and the total population (i.e., inmates and staff) of these institutions by 204.

The increase since 1937 in both the number of inhabited buildings and population under heading No. 13 ("Other Premises") will be noticed. During the interval between the censuses married quarters attached to War Department Establishments were constructed as separate dwellings near to the main Services buildings. Separate returns were completed in respect of these as they are individual houses but they are shown in Table 8 as they are attached to War Department Establishments and, for the same reason, are excluded from the Private House figures.

USUAL RESIDENCE

Table 10 discloses that 98.2 per cent of the enumerated population of County Down were normally resident in the County and of the remainder, 2,914 were usually resident in some other part of Northern Ireland. Allowing for 2,563 persons usually resident in the County but enumerated elsewhere in Northern Ireland the adjustment to obtain the usual residence figure represented 1.46 per 1,000 of the population. In 1937, when the "Usual Residence" question was first included in the Census Return, the adjustment figure was 1.3 per 1,000 of the total enumeration.

Only 1,468 persons were usually resident outside the Province.

SEX, AGE AND MARITAL CONDITION

Table 11 shows the population of the County according to sex, age (individual years and quinquennial groups) and marital condition. Table XI although restricted to certain age groups, provides a convenient basis for comparison of the 1937 position with that of 1951.

Sex proportions: Since 1821, when the first census affecting Northern Ireland was taken, the number of females in the County, as constituted at the date of each census, has exceeded the number of males. The greatest disparity reached, in 1861 and 1891, was 1,127 females for every 1,000 males. Since 1891 each census has shown a lessening in the preponderance of females - the latest figure, that for 1951, is the lowest recorded, viz., 1,048 females per 1,000 males. Up to and including 20 years of age, boys were in the majority, in 1951. Under the age of one year there were 90 girls for every 100 boys, but the figure increased to 95 to every 100 boys between 5 and 9 years, and to 96 between the ages of 10 and 14, only to decrease to 88 for every 100 between the ages of 15 and 19. In the 65-69 age group there were 123 women to every 100 men; in the 80-84 age group there were 126 to every 100 men, and in the 85-89 group 144 to every 100 men.

It will be noted from Table 12 that the preponderance of females over males is more marked in urban than in rural districts. In Banbridge, Downpatrick and Newry No. 1 Rural Districts males outnumber females. In all other districts females outnumber males.

Ages: As in the case of County Antrim, though unlike present day tendencies, the average age of the population of County Down decreased between 1937 and 1951. At the 1911 census the average was 30.3 years; it rose to 30.7 in 1926 and to 34.0 in 1937, falling to 33.3 in 1951.

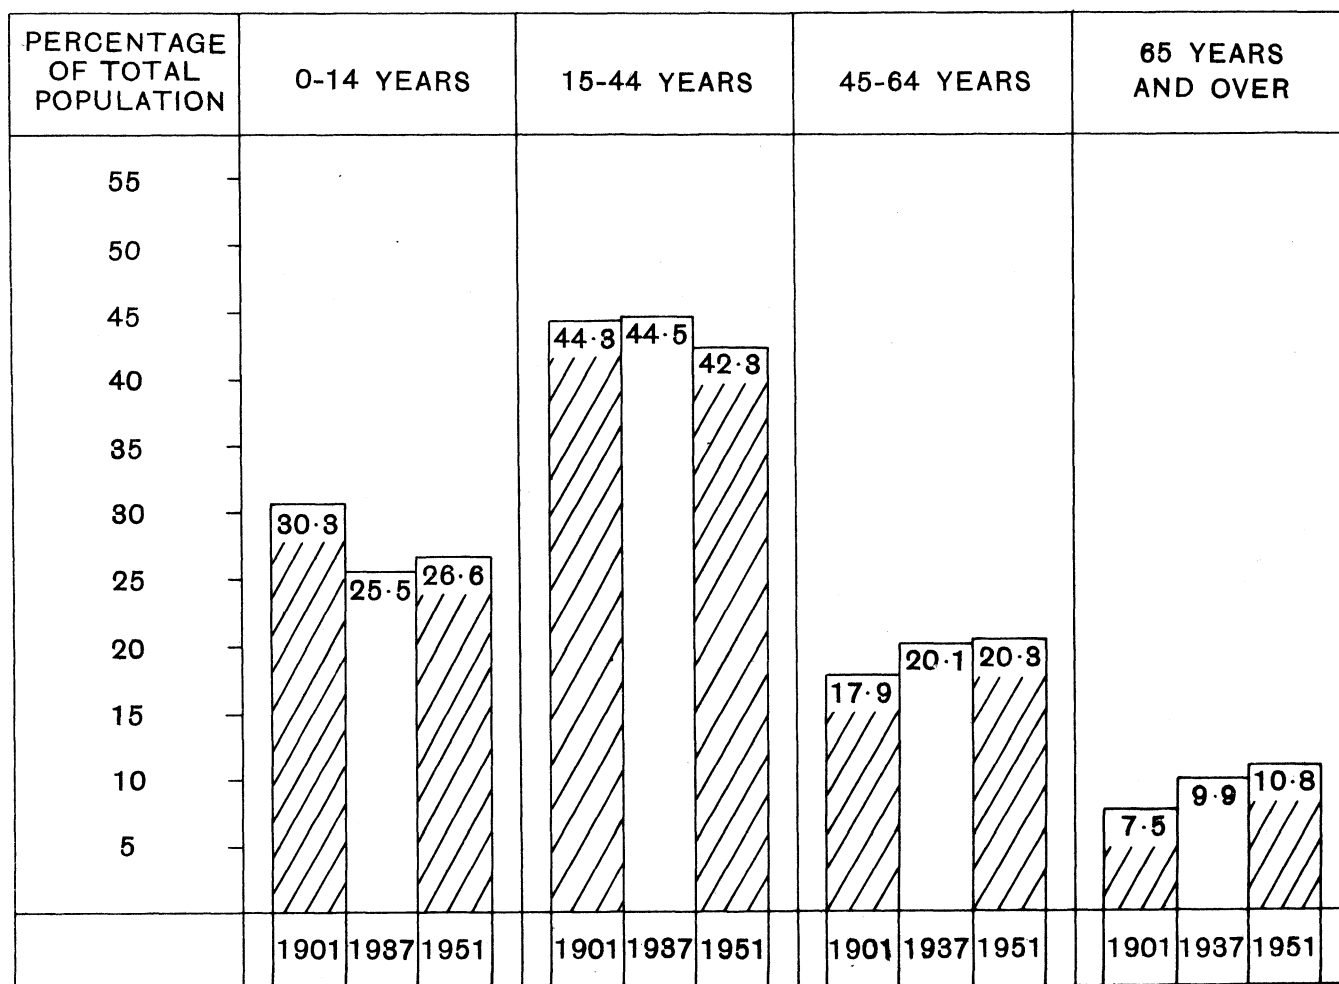

In 1937 the 10-14 age group accounted for the largest number of the population of all quinquennial age groups, containing 8.9 per cent of the enumerated population, as compared with 7.5 in 1951. In 1951 the age group from birth to four years exceeded all others with 9.9 per cent of the population as compared with 8.2 in 1937. Since 1937 all quinquennial groups except those from 10 to 14 and from 20 to 24 (and 100 and over in which group the figures are the same) show an increase in numbers. Increases were recorded for males except in the age groups 10-14, 20-24, 60-64 and 95-99. Increases were recorded for females except in the age groups 10-19 and 100 and over.

The following chart shows the distribution of the population for the County in the four main age groups for 1901, 1937 and 1951.

It will be seen that in the two groups comprising persons aged 45 years and upwards there has been a steady increase since 1901 - as was seen also in the Belfast County Borough and County Antrim Reports. The 65 years and over group increased by 0.9 per cent between 1937 and 1951 and though much lower than the increase in Belfast County Borough (1.7 per cent) it is a good deal higher than that in County Antrim (0.1 per cent). The general trends are, however, the same as in County Antrim, viz., the group 0-14 years shows an increase, the 15-44 age group shows a decrease, and the higher age groups both record increases since 1937. The Belfast figures show a decrease in the 15-44 years span during the whole fifty years (a total drop of 7.3 per cent) whereas in each of the Counties, Antrim and Down, the slight increase between 1901 and 1937 was more than lost in the 1937-1951 period.

Marital Condition: Since 1937 the number of persons in Down aged 14 and over increased by 19,881 of whom 9,530 were males and 10,351 females. The number of single persons in this age group decreased by 4,145 (1,465 males and 2,680 females), while the number of married persons increased by 22,514 (10,950 males and 11,564 females).

Single males aged 14 and over accounted for 42.7 per cent of the male population of the same age in 1951 (49.9 per cent in 1937) and married men for 52.3 per cent (44.6 in 1937). In the same age group, single females represented 38.7 per cent (46.7 in 1937) and married women 49.9 per cent (42.3 in 1937).

Widowers decreased by 32 whilst widows increased by 1,347. The number of persons whose marriages had been dissolved and who had not remarried, increased from 31 in 1937 to 228 in 1951 - divorced men numbered 87 as compared with 10 in 1937, and divorced women 141 as against 21.

EDUCATION

Table 13 summarises the information furnished regarding attendance at educational establishments. It will be seen that of children aged 5-13 inclusive 3.8 per cent are stated not to be attending school. In the 14-17 age group, i.e., amongst persons over the age for compulsory school attendance but of normal age for attending grammar school, 68.8 per cent were not attending educational establishments.

Persons of all ages attending educational establishments part-time were shown to number 417. As the total number of part-time students enrolled in the institutions of further education under the management of the Down Education Authority during the year ended 31st July, 1951, numbered 6,979, it is apparent that in many cases the information regarding part-time education was not furnished on the census returns. Much the same result was disclosed by the reports of Belfast County Borough and County Antrim. It would appear that the significance of the question was not appreciated by the heads of households.

BIRTHPLACES

Table 14 shows, by sex, the number of persons born in each of the counties of Northern Ireland, other parts of the British Isles, Commonwealth Countries, etc., foreign countries and at sea. Of the total population of Down (i.e., 241,181), persons born in the County numbered 163,654 (67.9 per cent), and altogether 216,294 (89.7 per cent) were born in some part of Northern Ireland. 32,723 persons (13.6 per cent) were born in Belfast County Borough, leaving 19,917 (8.2 per cent) born in the other counties of Northern Ireland. 9,793 persons (4.1 per cent) were born in the Irish Republic as compared with 8,068 (3.8 per cent) in 1937. Only 1,928 persons (0.8 per cent) were born outside the British Isles, of whom 903 were born in Commonwealth Countries, 1,015 in foreign countries, and 10 at sea.

The percentage representing persons born in the County (67.9) has decreased since 1937 (74.8) while the percentage of persons born in Belfast has increased from 8.5 to 13.6.

Table XII gives comparative figures for censuses since 1861.

(a) Persons born in the Isle of Man and the Channel Islands have been included under this heading. In 1951 they numbered 36 persons born in the Isle of Man and 24 in the Channel Islands.

(b) All figures relate to the County as constituted at the date of each Census.

It will be noted that the percentage of the total population born in Northern Ireland decreased since 1901 from 94.27 to 89.68 whereas over the same 50 year period the percentage born in the Irish Republic increased from 2.79 to 4.06. Figures prior to 1901 are only available for all Ireland; it will be seen, however, that the 1951 percentage for persons born in Northern Ireland stands at its lowest point for the half century and that for persons born in the Irish Republic has reached its highest point. Between 1901 and 1951 the percentage born in England and Wales has increased from 1.56 to 3.93 that born in Scotland from 0.93 to 1.53, and that born abroad from 0.45 to 0.80.

Table 15 shows the numbers of persons in each administrative area born outside Northern Ireland, according to sex, duration of residence, whether residents in, or visitors to Northern Ireland and divided into five religious groups.

Table XIII gives for the County, for purposes of comparison, the total number of persons born outside Northern Ireland by duration of residence for censuses 1937 and 1951.

† Including Church of England and Episcopal Church of Scotland, numbering 3,945 and 6, respectively, in 1951.

A scrutiny of Table XIV reveals that Roman Catholics were at their highest percentage (32.5) of the total population in 1861; since that year the percentage steadily decreased until 1891 when it stood at 29.8 being the lowest point recorded during the 90 years, 1861 - 1951. Percentages fluctuated between 1891 and 1951 - the figure for the 1951 Census being 30.2 the second lowest since 1861. On a percentage basis the Presbyterians lost ground between 1937 and 1951 during which period the figure decreased from 36.8 to 36.4 and in fact this denomination has lost steadily throughout the 90 years for which records are available; in 1861 the figure was 44.6. The Church of Ireland lost 0.2 per cent between 1937 and 1951 (from 23.7 to 23.5) but at the latter year stood 3.2 per cent higher than in 1861. On the other hand Methodists and "Other and not stated Denominations" attained to their highest percentages in 1951, i.e., 3.8 and 6.1 per cent, respectively, of the total population. A comparison of the 1951 figures with those for 1937 shows that there were numerical increases in all five groups, viz., Roman Catholics 8,266, Presbyterians 10,251, Church of Ireland 6,736, Methodists 3,078, others 2,163.

Table 16 shows the population by sex for each Municipal Borough, Urban District and Rural District under the five religious groups, viz., Roman Catholic, Presbyterian, Church of Ireland (including the Church of England and the Episcopal Church of Scotland), Methodist, and all other (or not stated) denominations. The list of descriptions of "Other Denominations" given at the foot of the table refers to the County as a whole; the names of denominations are restricted to those having less than ten adherents.

Of the "Other Denominations" the two categories which show the highest increases as compared with 1937 are: Brethren +585 and Baptist +556. The number of persons who omitted to state their denomination has increased from 584 to 1,014. The Non-Subscribing Presbyterian or Unitarian denomination shows the largest decrease, viz., -298.

Table 17 gives details for the County under five religious categories and age groups (individual years to age 21, and quinquennial age groups up to 69 years). The comparative Table in the 1937 Report gave the population by individual ages up to 20, and by two religious groups - Roman Catholics and other denominations. It is not therefore possible to make a complete comparison between the 1937 figures and those published in this Report, but it is observed that the overall increase in the population of Roman Catholics up to the age of 20 is 4,244 or 16.7 per cent, while the increase in the population of all other denominations up to that age is 6,291 or 12.6 per cent. The following are the percentage increases or decreases in the various age groups up to 19 years and of the population aged 20 and over between 1937 and 1951:-

Age Group	Roman Catholics	Other Denominations
0 - 4	+39.9	+37.7
5 - 9	+24.0	+26.2
10 - 14	+ 1.6	- 6.6
15 - 19	+ 3.9	- 1.2
20 and over	+10.0	+16.2
All Ages	+12.8	+15.2

A comparison of Tables 15 and 16 shows that in the County 9.8 per cent of Roman Catholics, 6.3 per cent of Presbyterians, 16.6 per cent of members of the Church of Ireland, 14.1 per cent of Methodists, and 10.0 per cent of other and not stated denominations were born outside Northern Ireland.

OCCUPATIONS AND INDUSTRIES

As will be seen from the volumes "Classification of Occupations." and "Classification of Industries" referred to in Part I of this Report the separate terms under which workers are classified run into many thousands. This has occasioned modifications to bring census data within manageable dimensions, and thus generally speaking the arrangement of headings is according to class of materials worked with, commodities produced or services rendered.

Special attention is drawn to the following changes since the 1926 Census which is the last occasion on which occupational and industrial enquiries were included in the Northern Ireland Census Schedule:-

(1) The 1951 Tables deal with persons aged 14 years and over, whereas in 1926 the age of 12 was adopted as the minimum. For Table XV the 1926 figures were adjusted to the 1951 age grouping to allow proper comparison, but see footnote to that table. See footnote to Table XVI also.

(2) A revision in the Classification of Occupations since 1926 brings together the bulk of the unskilled workers in a single group - Order XXVI.

Occupations: Table XV sets out the numbers and percentages of persons occupied (i.e., persons whose normal occupation was stated) in the age group from 14 years and upwards, for the Censuses 1926 and 1951.

The term "occupied" includes persons temporarily out of work. The number returned as temporarily out of work in 1926 was 7,250 (5,485 males and 1,765 females). In 1951, the figure amounted to 5,604 (4,280 males and 1,324 females).

TABLE XV

Year of Census	MALES			FEMALES
	Total	Occupied	Percentage of Occupied to Total	Total	Occupied	Percentage of Occupied to Total
1926	73,089	*64,757	88.6	81,169	*27,331	33.7
1951	86,611	74,124	85.6	94,054	28,070	29.8

* These are adjusted figures and may include a number (but if so, a very small number) of children not stated to be in occupation because they were also attending an Educational Establishment.

The above table shows that for both sexes the percentage of occupied to total number of persons aged 14 years and over is lower for 1951 than for 1926. It should be borne in mind, however, that in 1926 males aged 65 years and over comprised 11.2 per cent of the male population aged 14 years and upwards whereas in 1951 the percentage was 13.3, and of females aged 14 years and upwards the percentage aged 65 and over increased from 12.5 in 1926 to 15.4 in 1951. Furthermore it is probable that, as in the case of Belfast County Borough, the percentage of occupied persons - both male and female - of the age group 65 and over decreased considerably between the Censuses.

Though the proportions have decreased since 1926, the actual number occupied has increased from 92,088 in 1926 to 102,194 in 1951 - and increase of 10,106 persons (9,367 males and 739 females).

In 1926 there were 42 occupied females to every 100 occupied males; in 1951 the figure was 38 to 100 males.

Table XVI shows the percentages of occupied to the total population, including children under 14 years of age.

PERSONS	*92,105	102,194	117,123	138,987	44.0	42.4	56.0	57.6

* These figures include occupied children aged 12 and 13 years - the actual number is not available though based on the number for the whole of Northern Ireland it is necessarily small.

From Table XVI it will be seen that the occupied represented 44.0 per cent of the population of both sexes and all ages in 1926 and in 1951 the percentage was 42.4. In County Antrim the decrease was only by 0.1 per cent but in Belfast County Borough it was 1.1 per cent. The figures for occupied persons as a percentage of the total population (both sexes) of all ages in 1911 were - males 30.4; females 12.7; persons 43.1. The increases recorded for males and females between 1911 and 1926 were not maintained in the latter intercensal period and, in fact, in the case of females a lower percentage were employed in 1951 than in 1911 as well as in 1926.

* Only Orders showing proportions of 5 or more per 1,000 occupied males or females are included, and the Single or Grouped Occupations have been limited to those showing proportions of 10 or more per 1,000.

Table 18 gives the full list of occupations of persons of 14 years of age and over and Table XVII shows the proportions per 1,000 of the occupied males and females under the numerically important Orders and also for numerically important single or grouped occupations.

27.6 per cent of the occupied males are engaged in agricultural occupations; 9.1 per cent are engaged in commercial, finance and insurance occupations (excluding clerical); 8.6 per cent are engaged as workers in metal manufacture, engineering, etc. 20 per cent of occupied females are in personal service; 16.2 per cent are textile workers, and 16.0 per cent are clerks, typists, etc. The changes since 1926 in the Classification of Occupations and especially the introduction of Order XXVI bringing together groups of unskilled workers not provided for elsewhere (formerly included in various Orders) make it impracticable to give a general comparison between 1926 and 1951 figures. It is, however, possible to give comparative figures in some instances. The following are those which show the greatest variation in numbers and which are broadly similar to the 1926 classification:-

† The 1951 figures do not include unskilled workers engaged in the manufacture of Foods and Drinks.

Industries: The industrial classification has not undergone widespread changes since 1926 as was the case in the classification of occupations. The 1926 and 1951 figures, however, are not comparable as the 1926 figures for the occupied population include persons out of work (i.e., 5,485 males and 1,765 females) whereas the 1951 figures exclude persons out of work, in accordance with the practice throughout the United Kingdom for this Census.

Table XVIII shows the distribution for 1951 according to certain main industrial groupings.

The Manufacturing Industries (used in a wide sense) provide employment for 37 per cent of the occupied population. In 1926 the percentage was 32. Agriculture and Fishing provide 21 per cent and the Distributive Trades and Finance (including Insurance and Banking) 14 per cent; in 1926 the percentages were 32 and 11 respectively.

The most marked increases between 1926 and 1951 are in the proportions of people employed in (a) Gas, Electricity and Water, from 3 persons per 1,000 occupied in 1926 to 11 per 1,000 in 1951. (b) Professional Services, from 35 to 63 per 1,000 and (c) Transport and Communication from 29 to 50 per 1,000 occupied persons.

Table XVIII also reveals that the Males outnumber the Females in all the groups except the Professions and Miscellaneous Services. The former group includes Teachers and Nurses and the latter, persons employed in Private Domestic Service, Restaurants, Entertainment, etc. The same balance was recorded in respect of Belfast County Borough and the County of Antrim.

For males the Manufacturing Industries (mainly Building and Contracting, Textiles and Engineering) provided employment for 35 per cent of the occupied and Agriculture and Fishing 28 per cent; in 1926 the percentage for the former was 27 and for the latter 40.

The Manufacturing Industries (mainly Textiles and Clothing) gave employment to 42 per cent of the occupied females; in 1926 the percentage was 44.

Table 21 gives the industrial distribution of the occupied population in greater detail, separate figures being given for each Order and suitable groupings thereunder.

County

- DEFINITIONS - 1. The term "Population" is defined in Part I. The figures for 1821 and 1831 exclude members of H.M. Forces.
2. The figures given are for the County as constituted at the date of each Census, exclusive of that part of Belfast within it. Belfast, which was enlarged in 1853 and 1896, became a County Borough in 1898. The boundaries of the County were further altered, pursuant to the Local Government (Ireland) Act, 1898, by (a) the transfer to County Antrim of the portion of Lisburn Urban District formerly situated in County Down, and (b) the transfer from County Armagh of the portion of Newry Urban District formerly situated in that County.
3. It will be noted that since 1911 the Censuses were taken at irregular intervals.
